Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Gospel: MT 18:15-20

Jesus said to his disciples:
"If your brother sins against you,
go and tell him his fault between you and him alone.
If he listens to you, you have won over your brother.
If he does not listen,
take one or two others along with you,
so that every fact may be established
on the testimony of two or three witnesses."

Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University presented by Thomas & Jadviga Strubel

Hello,
We had our fourth FPU class this past Tuesday. It was the best meeting yet!
Here is what we talked about.

Dumping Debt

It's time to debunk some common debt myths! Dave gives you a plan to walk out of debt with confidence.

Myth: Debt is a tool and should be used to help create prosperity.

Truth: Debt isn't used by wealthy people nearly as much as we are led to believe. That's because debt is dumb—but it still has a choke hold on so many of our friends and family members. Most normal people are just plain broke. They are in debt up to their eyeballs with no hope of help. If you're in debt, you don't have the freedom to use your money the way you want.

According to a Pew Charitable Trusts report, 47% of Baby Boomers have mortgage debt, 41% have credit card debt, 13% have school loans, and 36% have car payments. It takes a lot of will, discipline, courage and help to slay the debt monster. But it can be done. Imagine how much you could put toward retirement if you just didn't have a stinking car payment! This is how the wealthy really build their wealth.

Consider the Risk

Here's the truth: Debt creates enough risk to offset any possible advantage. Given time—a lifetime—risk will destroy any possible returns. Dave actually used to believe the myth himself and could repeat it very convincingly. He even sold rental property that was losing money. He would show the investors, with very sophisticated internal rates of return, how they would actually make money!

Next Week's Lesson:

Buyer Beware

Dave draws on decades of experience to reveal the power and influence that marketing has on your everyday buying decisions.

Correcting Lovingly

Today's readings are about fraternal correction. We are responsible for our brother's good, and God expects us to help him. This means being a good example and holding him or her to a gospel standard. If that means a hard dose of the truth, so be it, as long as that truth is given in love.

Ezekiel was a prophet who knew how to preach fire and brimstone, but he could also be tender and compassionate. He prophesied both about the destruction of Israel and how Yahweh would turn their hearts of stone into flesh. In Michelangelo's fresco on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel, the strength of this rugged prophet is evident. That Ezekiel is turned to listen to a cherub says a lot about his humility as well.

God told Ezekiel that if he didn't preach to the wicked, God would hold him responsible for their deaths. However, if he did preach and the wicked still didn't heed him, Ezekiel would be safe. The moral is, when God asks us to preach, take it seriously!

Jesus tells us if our brother sins against us, we should confront him in the presence of two witnesses. He even encourages us to bring the Church in as judge if a dispute between believers isn't resolved. However, this should always be done with love.

As humble Christians, we should accept corrections when they are done correctly. No one likes to be told he or she is wrong, but if we are we should rejoice in the truth, even if it hurts. And we should thank those who love us enough to correct us.

For Reflection

Do I find the idea of charitable correction uncomfortable? Why or why not?

How willing am I to receive correction from my peers? My spouse? My child? My boss?

*“The commandments...are summed up in this saying,
‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself’” (Romans 13:9).*

Twenty-Fourth Sunday
in Ordinary Time

Sir 27:30–28:7

Rom 14:7–9

Mt 18:21–35

Dear Padre,

I want my children to be merciful and forgiving like Jesus, but I don't want them to be permissive of sin because someone else thinks it's OK. How can I teach this balance?

The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches, “Education in the faith by parents should begin in the child’s earliest years. This already happens when family members help one another to grow in faith by the witness of a Christian life in keeping with the Gospel” (CCC 2226). The balance of advocating the magnitude of God’s mercy without diminishing the severity of sin is best taught through witness.

You should hold your children accountable (and vice versa) and explain with loving candor how lax attitudes and actions have consequences. As we are taught in Proverbs 27:5, “Better is an open rebuke than a love that remains hidden.”

An intimate relationship with God also helps. It’s easier to instill greater compassion in ourselves and in others when we’ve experienced God’s infinite mercy firsthand. Jesus asked the woman caught in adultery, “Has no one condemned you?” She replied, “No one, sir.” Then Jesus said, “Neither do I condemn you. Go, [and] from now on do not sin any more” (John 8:10–11).

Christ loves the sinner and despises the sin—but he doesn’t dwell on the sin. Instead, Jesus rejoices when sinners enter a newfound relationship with his merciful Father, knowing that the experience of God’s mercy is the catalyst for ultimate change and lasting conversion, where neither the sinner is condemned nor the sin condoned.

PEALES

A Word From Pope Francis

“If you are not capable of performing fraternal reproof with love, with charity, in truth and with humility, you will offend, damage that person’s heart: you will create an extra tale that wounds and you will become a blind hypocrite, as Jesus says...a sign which perhaps can help us: when one sees something wrong and feels that he should correct it but perceives a certain pleasure in doing so, then it is time to pay attention, because that is not the Lord’s way. In the Lord there is always the cross, the difficulty of doing something good.”
